YOUR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

An announcement has just been made by the Chamber of Commerce that the third week in February is to be Chamber of Commerce week. During that week the work of the Chamber of Commerce is to be stressed and every active member of the chamber and that should include all the members will get out and do their own particular little part in making Richmond a better place to live in and a more prosperous town.

President P. M. Sanford has not announced his complete plans for the week, but a comprehensive survey of what Richmond needs, followed by well laid out plans should bring some good results. As to who should do this work and who really constitutes the Chamber of Commerce there is a little article that has been going the rounds on the matter which we think is worth publication at this time.

"THEY have been blamed for a lot of things. Whenever anything goes wrong, or not just the way that suits, folks gather on the street corners or some place else and howl. 'Why didn't THEY do this or that?' Let us analyze the use of this duty-dodging word—THEY. Let us nail and put a stop to the somewhat common and wrong practice of referring to the Chamber of Commerce as THEY.

"Who in thunder are THEY? When the chamber is referred to with this pronoun by members of the organization itself, it should be brought to their attention that it is themselves who are THEY. To all members the Chamber of Commerce is WE.

"The goal we are after will be reached a little faster when you and I, and all of us stop this eternal duty-dodging, this passing the buck, this side-stepping habit of laying the blame on THEIR shoulders, or finding fault with THEM.

"Think it over. In all certainty the Chamber of Commerce represents YOU. You are the Chamber of Commerce. If you don't like something it may have done, or if it has failed to do something you think it should undertake, tell the officers, because it is your organization, created to serve you and your city, to enhance your interests, and the interests of every citizen.

"Eternal vigilance, interest and a share of the responsibility is the price of success. Your interest is your share of the job. Act, think and work with and for the organization, the only purpose of which is to act, think and work for your city.

"Recognize that you are a part of the chamber, and the great alibi of the word THEY will be dropped, for in the final analysis, you and I are responsible. WE are THEY so let's be honest enough to say WE.

RICHMOND CAN HAVE GOOD BUS SERVICE HERE IF IT GOES AFTER IT

The Bus Will Eventually Replace the Street Car Why Not at Present Time?

A series of articles by Robert Shaw have just been completed in this column. These articles were prepared by Shaw after a thorough study of transportation needs of cities in the east. Without fear of successful contradiction Shaw has shown that the bus is the only plausible answer to the transportation needs of Richmond and the Eastbay section.

The bus is cheaper. It is more flexible. It is safer. It is faster. It is more economical in every respect.

It can be adapted to special occasions because it does not require the laying of tracks or the running of trolleys.

It is not as hard on the streets because it does not require tracks which allow water to get under the pavement breaking it up.

Bus service in New York, Detroit, Chicago and Philadelphia, is an established fact and not an experiment.

Surface street railways cannot be reorganized so that they will answer the present transportation needs.

RAIN FAILS TO STOP REVIVAL MEETINGS HERE

A fine spirit was shown last night when people came through the rain to attend the services at the Community Methodist church. Last night was designated as "Greenlee night" and was in honor of Rev. Greenlee and his family. Among those present was a large delegation from the First Christian church headed by Rev. and Mrs. Frank Woten.

Rev. Jackson spoke of the work done by Rev. Greenlee when the two were together in college. He stated that Rev. Greenlee had occupied some of the highest positions in the student activities of the college.

A quartette composed of Rev. and Mrs. Frank A. Woten and Rev. and Mrs. Greenlee, sang several selections.

E. H. Howard will sing at this evening's service and E. Gray, of the Mexican mission will render a special number.

Dredger Driven To Shelter By the Stormy Weather

City Engineer E. A. Hoffman visited the office of the U. S. Harbor Engineer yesterday in regard to the dredging at the outer harbor basin which was started last week. The dredger which has been at work on the channel in front of Municipal Wharf No. 1, was forced to seek cover a few days ago when the heavy wind and storm started. It is expected that the dredger will be at work again in a few days to complete the dredging.

(By Universal Service)

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—For a month police in every city of the United States have been searching for J. K. Fink, automobile dealer of Hollywood, California, who suddenly turned swindler, victimized Los Angeles and Hollywood banks and business houses of probably $400,000 and then fled, leaving his wife and child penniless.

At one o'clock this morning Fink was arrested. He was seized in the lobby of the Morrison hotel here where he had gone to visit a friend.

The arrest was made by Sergeant Kosinski and Lynn of the detective bureau and by J. J. Garvey of the Burns agency, representing several of the California banks victimized by the man.

The detectives were guided to their man by reporters for the Herald and Examiner and Universal Service, who for two weeks

"Borax" Smith Stages a Big Comeback Here

(By Homer Thomas)

(By Universal Service)

OAKLAND, Jan. 28.—"Borax" Smith is coming back.

The one time financial colossus of the Pacific Coast, the man whose amazing exploits first in California and later in the financial field won him interest in the money markets of the world at the age of 36 years and with the burden of debts of millions on his shoulders is on his way back to financial independence.

Today he revealed here today when the committee of Pacific Coast financial giants appointed 13 years ago to untangle his affairs issued a statement to creditors of F. N. Smith and asked that claims be presented in order that future payments may be made as rapidly as possible.

Behind the simple statements rests one of the epics of the west. Forty years ago Borax Smith had faith in the future of Oakland and the Eastbay district of San Francisco Bay.

He plunged recklessly on his dreams. He bought land—more land on the bare east bay hills, he put money into infant public utilities. His dreams crashed later when he failed for $20,000,000, a staggering sum in that era of Pacific Coast finance.

Now he looks forward to complete liquidation and total repayment of all debts within the next few years—three to five at a fair estimation.

Today enhancement of real property values in the Eastbay means that "Borax" Smith's dream company is paying its debts and will have a nice balance left over. His vision has come true.

MINOR WINS SUIT

Because of the fact that he was a minor, the suit of Edward McNeil against the Thomas Motor company was settled in favor of McNeil. McNeil sued for the return of $250 which he had paid to the automobile company and Justice of the Peace John Roth decided against him. Through attorney J. V. T. Kearney McNeil then appealed to Superior Judge A. B. McKenzie who reversed the decision. Attorney Will E. Roberson then attached the judgement claiming attorney fees. This suit was also declared in McNeil's favor and the money was paid over to-day.

War On Rate Increase Of Telephones Is Declared

League of Municipalities Orders Executive Committee to "Take Action"

Labeling the telephone situation in California as one "handled by a trust" the California League of Municipalities in session yesterday afternoon at the Hotel Stewart in San Francisco started a war on what it considers "unjust and unfair rates charged telephone users."

In the southern part of the state, Judge D. J. Hall city attorney of Richmond who attended the meeting stated that a most vigorous protest was made at the session against the increased rates and that the meeting which represented practically all of the municipalities in the northern part of the state directed the executive committee of the organization to investigate and take such action as it might think necessary in the rate war in the southern part of the state.

According to reports made at the meeting yesterday the telephone company in the southern part of the state is charging its subscribers a flat rate for a certain number of calls each month and after that three and one half cents for each local call. This rate was recently allowed by the Railroad commission.

The thought was expressed at the meeting yesterday that although these rates did not effect the northern part of the state at the present time they eventually would. Several of the speakers stated that practically all of the companies operating in California were "subsidiaries" of the American Telephone and Telegraph company which received a certain percentage of the company's income.

A fund of $75,000 is being raised in the southern part of the state to fight the recent decision of the railroad commission in the southern California rates it was declared yesterday at the meeting.

THREE ESCAPE ICEBOUND TUGS

(By Universal Service)

MUSKEGON, Mich., Jan. 28.—Three men have made their way safely to shore tonight from the fishing tug Helen and the Indian, imprisoned in an ice pack with their crews. Five men are still in the thirty-seven foot boat, buffeted in the storm tossed waters of Lake Michigan, two miles from shore.

Ted Graham, Jr., son of a captain of one of the imprisoned ships, was the first to make his way to shore late this afternoon. Floyd Grover and Chris Jensen later crawled to safety to a point below Muskegon. When Graham sought to return to the ship tonight with food supplies he was forced to turn back, confronted by a gulf of black water 10 feet wide.

Early tomorrow two army planes will sweep over the waters in an attempt to locate the tugs.

TO BE DEDICATED SOON

No Opposition Has Been Made To Move Which Is Suggested Here

Several hundred yards of the inner harbor channel have not as yet been dedicated will be dedicated within a short time if plans formulated early yesterday afternoon by property owners of the Richmond inner harbor, city engineer E. A. Hoffman and Captain Pond, assistant U. S. engineer of Rivers and Harbors of this district are carried out.

The conference was called at the solicitation of John Cassall, attorney of the Minter Estate and was for the purpose of finding ways and means to dedicate the Richmond inner harbor channel from the present Emanuel wharf to the yacht harbor, to a width of 200 feet. Although the channel is open and probably could never be closed owners of property on the inner harbor asked that it be dedicated to prevent future confusion.

Engineer of Ill Fated Train Found In Southern City

(By Universal Service)

SANTA CRUZ, Jan. 28.—How the engineer of a death train struggled for 35 years to keep his secret to himself was revealed late today when Sam Dunn, 70, engineer of the Southern Pacific locomotive which in 1890 plunged through the old Webster street bridge, Oakland, hurling 13 passengers to their death broke under the terrific strain and revealed his identity.

Dunn, employed as a cook in the Santa Cruz County hospital, related the story of the sensational disaster and told how he spent 25 years as a fugitive while authorities searched for him to serve a manslaughter warrant. He gave that immediately after the disaster he fled.

"If I had had eight feet more track I could have stopped the train in time," Dunn said. That old engine was a wreck anyway. The sand box was on the wrong end and my air brakes failed."

It was first reported Dunn was killed in Los Angeles where he was employed as a street paver. "That wreck has haunted me down through all these years," the aged locomotive engineer declared today. "The thought of it often made me sick. I have never had any peace. It is a relief to be able to tell my story now."

The manslaughter warrant against Dunn has since been outlawed. He plans to remain at the hospital for some time yet but now that he has "declared himself" he may return to Oakland to live.

Heavy Rain and Wind Does Some Damage In City

Rain—rain—and more rain coupled with a strong driving wind littered the Richmond streets with telephone poles last night and the water standing in streets held up traffic and in other ways made going uncomfortable.

The rain which fell in torrents throughout the day and far into the night soon flooded the streets in all sections of the city and although the water kept moving it could not move fast enough to clear the streets. In a great many sections of the city the water backed up on the sidewalks and made going almost impossible. Both sides of the Southern Pacific tunnel held a long line of cars this morning that had managed to get through the three feet of water.

One Killed Two Injured In Auto- Street Car Crash

(By Universal Service)

A head on collision between a street car and an automobile early yesterday morning near San Lorenzo resulted in the death of one man and serious injury to two others.

Joe Jess, 42, proprietor of a dairy at Alvarado is the dead man and Tony Leal and Joe Soars employees of the Jess Dairy are the injured men. Leal is believed to have a fractured skull and Soars sustained serious cuts and bruises.

Blinded by the lights of an approaching car Jess who was driving the automobile in which the three men were riding, misjudged the distance between the approaching car with the glaring headlights and the street car and crashed into the street car. The front of the street car was badly damaged and the automobile was completely demolished by the wreck.

VALIDITY OF MILK LAW TO BE DECIDED

The validity of Richmond's milk ordinance will be tested today in the court of Superior Judge Quinn of Alameda county. Although the local ordinance is not up for judgment the decision which Judge Quinn will render today in the case of the Hayward ordinance will spell life or death for the Richmond law according to City Attorney Judge D. J. Hall.

The Hayward law requires that all milk sold in Hayward must be pasteurized within ten miles of the city council chambers. Richmond law requires that all milk sold in Richmond must be pasteurized within five miles of the city hall and is patterned after the Hayward ordinance. Both laws were made with the intention of assuring a frequent inspection of the milk sources of the city.

A temporary injunction has been filed against the Hayward council asking that the ordinance be set aside pending a hearing on a permanent injunction against the law. According to those familiar with the subject if the temporary injunction is granted it is generally believed that the permanent injunction will also be granted when it comes up for hearing in the near future.

SAN PABLO AND EL CERRITO CAN SECURE STATE AID IN PAVING

City May Ask County to Assist in Widening of San Pablo Avenue Here

6TH ST. NORTH OF ROCKIES

Has Second Heaviest Traffic Of Any Street in Northern Part of State

The state highway commission cannot assist the city of Richmond in paving San Pablo avenue to its full width and if no assistance is forthcoming from the county to do this work the city of Richmond will have to bear the entire expense itself.

The towns of El Cerrito and San Pablo will fare better because under existing laws the state highway commission can widen the streets in both of these places providing the towns will complete the paving to the full width of the street.

This information and tentative decision of the state highway commission although tentative is thought to be final was made at a meeting held in the office of the commission yesterday morning that was attended by Richmond and El Cerrito city officials.

THE TELL-TALE RADIO

We will all be living in the proverbial "glass house," if the scientists keep on discovering new means of checking upon us. With dictographs and truth serums and a new device said to be capable of making moving pictures of what goes on in a room, without the knowledge of its occupants, they are getting things down pretty fine.

Besides these schemes for the invasion of privacy, of which evil-doers might be warned, Fred M. Taylor of Kansas City would probably caution them to keep off the air—for the radio proved to be his undoing.

Some months after deserting a wife in Illinois Fred married a young society woman in the Missouri city, the wedding being a swell affair, with the ceremony performed by a bishop. To make the occasion strictly up-to-date, the proceedings were broadcast over the church radio.

Wife No. 1 happened to be listening in at her Illinois home, and as Fred had neglected the minor detail of getting a divorce or changing his name, his duplicity was exposed. The deserted wife journeyed westward.

When the judge asked the two Mrs. Taylors to suggest a suitable punishment for their point spouse, they agreed that five years would be about right, but his honor thought that two years in Jefferson City would satisfy the demands of the blind goddess and so decreed.

There Fred will have ample opportunity to reflect on the wonders of science, particularly the radio.

Some Pages from American History

THE FIRST HARD WINTER AT PLYMOUTH

The Pilgrims from England who landed at Plymouth in 1620 were used to cold weather. The winters were cold enough in the land from which they came. But over there, their homes were snug and a fire could always be built and there were comforts even if there were no luxuries.

But in this new country, there was need to build homes quickly before the intense cold should come. And clearings had to be made in the forests. Such a thing as real comfort was entirely lacking. If they did not actually suffer, they were satisfied. The necessities of life were all, they asked.

But there was scarcely enough to eat. They had only what they had brought with them and what they could buy of the Indians. This was little enough.

Then that other dreadful enemy stepped in—fever. One after another they fell until fully half of their number lay buried in the little cemetery they had made in the clearing.

Just think! At one time there were scarce six or seven well ones to care for all the sick. Little time there was then for building more homes or planning the future. Indeed, they must sometimes have wondered, whether there would be any left in the spring to live in the few cabins already built.

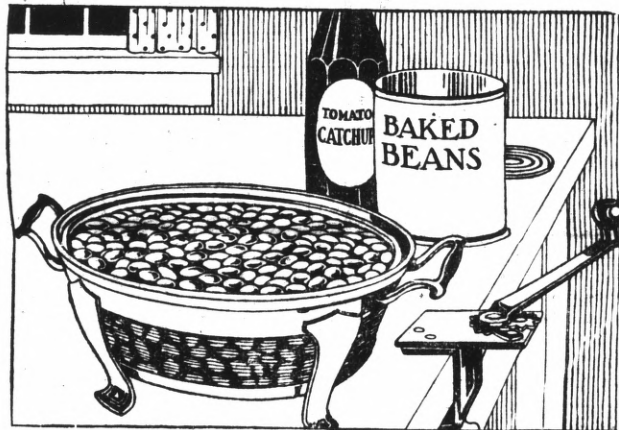

Spring came. The buds came out. The grass grew green.

The Mayflower rode at anchor in the bay. The captain went about among the people soliciting passengers home. He was getting ready for the trip back. The very masts of the ships seemed to be beckoning them home to their English relatives and friends.

But staunchly they bade her goodbye. Not one went with her. Immediately they set about learning what crops would grow best in the new land. But even spring and warm weather did not bring absolute peace. From time to time there was trouble with unruly neighbors. As the years went on there were difficulties with the shiftless English neighbors and with the headstrong Dutch, who had looked upon their arrival with great disfavor.

Tomorrow: The Coming of the Puritans.

Baked Beans

THE bean is one of the oldest of vegetables—it was well known to the Egyptians and Greeks before the beginning of recorded history, and when the first explorers reached the western continent they found that here, too, the bean was ready under cultivation.

The beans that the Indians raised were the lima and kidney. These are different from the European beans and are thought to have originated in South America.

So the baked bean—which is prepared from a variety of kidney beans—came, very naturally, one of our earliest American traditions. And what memories of aproned grandmothers and spick-and-span kitchens, so savory odor recalls.

Now the housewife, however, finds that it is no longer a necessity nor an economy for her to bake beans at home—using so much time and burning so much fuel—when a can serving three or four people costs only a few cents.

There are several varieties of baked beans on the market for the housewife to choose from—with and without pork, with pork and tomato sauce, and with just tomato sauce.

In Japan and China a variety of beans has replaced meat almost altogether, for hundreds of years, in the diet of millions of people. With the American bean, so complete a substitution is not advisable, as our bean has not so much assimilable protein. However, it is rich in iron, calcium and phosphorus, is inexpensive, nourishing and satisfying. Consequently it is a good meat substitute to use several times a week.

-and the Worst Is Yet to Come

—SUCH IS LIFE—

GIRLS YOU CAN'T FORGET
When you renounced her last night and threw a perfectly good package of cigarettes in the basket Lady Nicotine knew you would find them this morning.

"Satan in Sables" with Lowell Sherman is a pictorialization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Paul, innocent young brother of Prince Michael Yervodoff—wealthy philanthropist—is vamped and thrown off for revenge by Dolores, one of Michael's cast-off mistresses. Michael, meanwhile, honestly interested in Colette, an unworshiped girl, seeks in the Paris underworld for her motherless nephew, stolen by her Apache brother-in-law, Emile. The Apache King, Decline, a friend of Michael's, guides him to Emile's hiding place.

"Shut your mouth, you little fool—and go to sleep quickly, for we are going to be off early in the morning, away from Paris into the country."

"—but I don't want to go to the country without Auntie," the child broke in plaintively.

Emile brandished a threatening hand toward the troubled little fellow. "Not another word, brat, or I'll split your face!"

Billy lapsed into heavy-hearted silence.

Emile addressed to him, for want of anyone else, a stupid, drunken revelation of rankling hate.

"Your devil of an Aunt has double-crossed me for the last time! He gulped down the drops of the bottle; the reflection of the candle flame formed tiny red spearheads in the dilated pupils of his blood-shot eyes. He seized the empty bottle by the neck, and swished it recklessly through the air, while he boasted to the boy who could not understand,

"—and that damn swell friend of hers—him, by Our Lady, I'll pay back for what he did to me

"Hear me, dog! Do you remember the Ferbelcau murder?"

the other night. I'll break open his skull, if I have to go to the guillotine for it."

Emile's imprecations died behind his teeth and an ashy pallor drained the drink-heated blood from his face when, upon hearing a scornful laugh behind him, he turned to look full into the sneering face of Decline, who, with Michael, had softly opened the door and stepped into the room.

Emile cursed the luck that had made him neglect to lock the door. And he cursed Decline when that worthy carefully turned the key in the door, so that he and Michael now were locked in the room with Emile and Billy.

Drink and the devil made for reckless bravado. Emile, staggered to his feet and lurched towards Decline and Michael, his upraised hand ready to strike them with the bottle.

"What the hell do you two want? He dribbled vile curses at them with his cognac-thickened tongue.

"Why are you following me around—get out of here or I'll kill you!" Decline coolly stepped close to Emile, ignoring the threatening bottle. He thrust his nose close to Emile's and with deliberate unconcern spat in Emile's face.

Emile recoiled and snarled terribly under the deadly insult, and tensed his arm to crash the bottle down upon Decline's head—but it was no use; he was powerless to move under the cold, calm eyes of the Apache chief.

"Pit," snapped Decline contemptuously. "You have taken one step too far! Quick as thought Decline snatched the bottle away from Emile, and slapped him across the face so hard that he was knocked to the floor, his head unsteadily to his feet, hastened by a spur from Decline's feet.

"What do you want?" he whined, subdued hate showing now only in the baleful alertness of his shifty eyes.

"What are you doing with that boy?" asked Decline, nodding toward the thoroughly terrified Billy.

"What is that to anyone but me? He's my child, isn't he—and it's my right to do as I please with him. What is that damn swell in interfering for?" Emile's eyes gleamed wickedly toward Michael.

"Not on my own account, I assure you," said Michael, "but for the sake of the girl who raised this child, and who loves him."

Decline interrupted Michael. "Please do not trouble yourself to answer this swine, M'sieu. Leave him to me—for I know the only sort of language that his sewer of a mind can understand."

Decline turned upon Emile again: "Hear me, dog! Do you remember the Ferbelcau murder?" He paused, and arched his eyebrows with a cynical, glib smile while watching the effect of his words upon Emile.

It was, indeed, a startling effect; gone the last trace of bravado, gone the strength from his limbs, the balefulness from his eyes, the last faint flush of angry blood from his face.

He sank weakly into the chair—cold sweat upon his forehead, abject fear in his manner and eyes. "So!" chuckled Decline. "So, ah, so! Now I might add, you fool, that this gentleman"—indicating Michael—"has complete information concerning that crime. Every detail—every single detail—of it! He is about to go to the Prefect's office and make known this information. Then—"

Decline drew a long breath. Then, slowly, "Bluff, eh? Would it be bluff if he told you where you buried the body?"

"It was an accident—it was an accident—I didn't murder him!" screamed Emile, covering his face with his hands.

Decline glanced at Michael with covert relief. Then, "Accident, eh?" he sneered at Emile. "Well, you can try to make the police believe that, but I think you will have a hard job on your hands. Now we will go, Monsieur," he said to Michael. They started for the door, only to be held back by Emile, who suddenly groveled on the floor and clasped Decline around the knees.

"No, no, for God's sake, don't go!" he gasped in terror. "What do you want? Why did you come here? Just give me a chance to get out of the country, that's all I want, and I'll agree to anything."

"So?" You are beginning to have a little sense," replied Decline, "and just in time. Now see here, pig, my words will be few and to the point. You stole that boy from your sister-in-law, who has given her life to him, just to be revenged on her because she would not agree to become a thief like you, and also to be revenged on this gentleman because he happened to soil his hands on you the other evening. The gentleman can have you sent to the guillotine at any moment he chooses, but is willing to hold that information back from the police as long as you behave yourself and do what he says."

"What—what is that?" Emile rose from his knees and dully slumped into the chair.

Michael and Decline drew aside and whispered together for a short while. Presently Decline addressed Emile once more.

"You are not fit to raise the boy. Tomorrow, you sign an agreement giving your sister-in-law the legal charge of him so that you can never again molest either one of them. Then this information can have you sent to the guillotine at any moment he chooses, but is willing to hold that information back from the police as long as you behave yourself and do what he says."

Emile thought for a moment, then whined: "It isn't right to keep a father from his child." Decline stopped him abruptly.

"The guillotine will separate you very effectively, then—not alone from him, but from your head! Come on, Monsieur, we are wasting our time on this rogue."

"Wait a moment," said Emile hastily. "I haven't said I wouldn't do it, have I? Where would I get the passage money to?" He always wanted to go to South America for I have some friends there."

"You can go there," Michael said, "the further the better!" "But how can we arrange things?" Emile whined, "and how do I know that you will keep your promise?"

"How dare you talk like that to my friend?" Decline roared.

Tire Repairing Cold Cash In Your Pocket

There are two ways to take care of a tire injury. One way is to put a blowout patch in the tire and let it stay there. The other way—and the only good way—is to use the blow-out patch only as a temporary repair. At the first opportunity the tire should be taken to a competent and able vulcanizer for permanent repair. This means saving thousands of miles of the tire's life.

COUNTY C.E. SESSION WILL BE HELD HERE

The Christian Endeavorers of this county are to meet in a rally of more than passing interest today at the First Christian church of Richmond. The special occasion for this meeting is the coming of Rev. Ira Landrith, D.D., LL.D., of Chicago, who is the National Extension Secretary of the Christian Endeavor movement. He will be accompanied by the State Field Secretary, Harry C. Allen, who has made the itinerary of his tour of the state.

Mr. Landrith has been closely identified with the prohibition movement for many years and has long been a champion of moral reform. He was the chairman of the committee on resolutions of the great International Christian Endeavor convention that adopted the slogan "A sober nation by 1920." His voice has been heard in religious conventions, educational gatherings and in the Chicago platform for many years. He has become one of the most popular platform men in America and ranks among the foremost orators of our country.

In recent years, Dr. Landrith has been devoting much of his time in the interest of the Christian Endeavor organization. In addition to being the National Extension Secretary of Christian Endeavor, he is a trustee of the United States of Christian Endeavor. He sees in Christian Endeavor an opportunity of promoting inter-denominational, inter-racial and inter-national fellowship among the young people. The Christian Endeavor movement has something to offer more than 80,000,000 in every country in the world.

The present speaking engagements of Dr. Landrith which are nationwide are under the auspices of the California Christian Endeavor Union and the Contra Costa County Union. An opportunity will be given to active members of the local union at a supper to be held at the First Christian church this evening to hear Dr. Landrith. The main meeting will commence at 7:45.

This is to be a monster mass meeting when not only the members of the Christian Endeavor societies of this city, but all the Christian Endeavor societies in the county will be in attendance. Because of the prominence of the speaker and the general interest in his address, the entire membership of the Protestant churches is urged to attend the rally.

Miss Marjorie Gillington, county union president, will preside at this meeting which will open with a short song service led by Rev. Frank Woten, Rev. H. B. Thomas, pastor counselor, will conduct the brief devotional service.

Missionary Group First Presbyterian Has Big Meeting

The Macdonald Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church held a most interesting meeting yesterday afternoon in the church parlors. The room was attractively decorated with baskets of spring flowers and beautiful ferns.

The meeting was opened with Dr. John McAllister leading the devotionals. "The work of the Board of Missions of the First Presbyterian church," was explained by Mrs. C. R. Alexander. She told of the many different nationalities with which the board deals in its work.

Mrs. W. W. Giberson spoke on the conditions of China and the missionary work which is being done there.

The society is making elaborate plans for its nineteenth birthday celebration which will be held at the first meeting in February. At this time, the Missionary society will be hostess to all the women of the church.

At the close of the meeting, there was an informal discussion of the work for the year, and various members gave suggestions for plans which might be carried through.

Mrs. John McAllister told of the work of the Missionary society of the Calvary Presbyterian church of Hollywood, of which she is a member. That society is considered one of the strongest and most active in the state.

The hostesses for the day were Mrs. A. H. Poage and Mrs. R. E. Slattery.

Reporters Find Bank Swindler Who Fleed East

The following Franks trail picked up in this city. The original clue to the man's whereabouts was telegraphed here from Los Angeles and the Los Angeles Examiner and Universal Service representatives traced the flight of Franks from Hollywood to Seattle by automobile and learned in Seattle that he had taken the Oriental Limited for Chicago, January 4.

Through questioning the train crew and a check upon baggage transfer service the reporters picked up sufficient clues to Franks' wanderings to enable them to follow him to Milwaukee, trace him back to Chicago, trail him to New York and once more follow him to Chicago.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 28.—When the frenzied finance structure carefully reared by J. K. Franks tumbled down about his head with the coming of the new year a masterly organization that functioned with the precision of clockwork in defrauding banks was revealed.

Masking their activities behind the J. K. Franks Finance company the Bureau of Business Standards and the Western Automobile company, Franks and his associates are claimed to have defrauded banks of more than $400,000 from a small start two years ago before the final crash came.

So large were the operations of Franks that he employed 50 persons in his various offices and had at least $50,000 in cash.

On December 30, H. Thompson, State Bank Examiner, was startled to discover that in one instance Franks had overdrawn his account by $51,000. An investigation was immediately started, which laid bare the most amazing swindle in California history. Next day Franks was sought, but had disappeared. He was believed to have taken $200,000 with him.

Bandit Shot In S. F. Was Wanted In the Eastbay

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28. The body of Fred Clarence Egger, oil station bandit killed here yesterday was identified at Berkeley yesterday by Chief of Berkeley Police August Vollenmer. It is known that he had a long criminal record. It is also known that he had a girl accomplice, since Herringer, who shot the bandit, saw the machine in which the girl was thought to be, drive off when the shot was fired.

As Egger was in the act of holding up the oil station, policeman Tevis Herring, stepped in and was immediately covered by the bandit, whereupon Herring fired, and killed the bandit almost instantly.

Among the robberies known to be his work are:

Southern Pacific Station at Third and University avenue, in Berkeley, in which he got away with $148 at Berkeley. The same station was again held up by him on January 13, when he took $50 and a gun.

Santa Pa station, University avenue, and West Street, January 2, 1925, and a watch was taken.

The same station was again held up on January 21, and $52 were obtained.

Standard Oil filling station, at Parker street and Telegraph avenues was robbed of $30 on January 4.

The Associated Oil station, Telegraph avenue and Woolsey avenue, was held up and this time $27 was taken.

In the tunnel but water in the ignition resulted in several long walks after the cars got to the other side.

Although a large number of small accidents were reported, nothing that caused serious property loss or injury was reported at a 10-hour last night.

Four poles blown down by the strong wind were reported to the police department. One at Tenth street and Macdonald avenue early in the evening caused a great deal of inconvenience by blocking the street for a short time. Other poles reported down were at Fifth and Virginia, Fifth and Main and Clinton and Twenty-third streets.

The need of row boats to cross the street where the water in some cases had backed up on the sidewalk was reported from the following sections: San Pablo and Macdonald Avenue, El Cerrito at the county line, Cutting Boulevard from Fullerton to the Point, Eleventh and Macdonald, North Eighth street and Twenty-third and Macdonald.

No one seemed to mind the inclement weather conditions, in spite of the fact that numerous meetings were postponed because of it. The fact that the water reservoirs were being filled for future use and that the rain meant millions of dollars to the farmers in the state seemed to be felt by all those who were inconvenienced.

The rain extended from San Luis Obispo to the Oregon line with the government weather bureau announcing more rain for today.

The rain has been described as being worth $200,000,000 by those acquainted with the water and agricultural situation in the state. It is also expected that the rain will break the cold and fog spell which has been sweeping all sections of the state.

In spite of the heavy rain which fell all day yesterday and last night the rainfall for the year is still well below normal according to statistics.

Boats were unable to leave San Francisco Bay yesterday because of the heavy storm which raged outside of the Golden Gate. Several ships which started out put back into port late in the afternoon. Coastwise shipping was delayed to some extent due to the heavy sea. Several ships due in yesterday did not make port.

Neighbors of Woodcraft Seat New Officers

Mrs. Marie Lee Kelly was installed as guardian of the Woodcraft neighbors of Woodcraft at the meeting last night at the Waldman's hall. The other officers who were installed were:

Elizabeth Reeb, past guardian; Eunice Egger, guardian; Rose Porter, guardian; Johnson, inner sentinel; Bessie Egger, correspondent; Alfredo Scott, clerk; Helen Scott, attendant; Alice Fanning, captain of the guard; Beatrice Swed, flag bearer; Mrs. Ambler Bevels acted as installing officer.

A program was presented during the ceremonies which consisted of a piano solo by Miss Florence Valler; Vocal solos by Miss M. Schrubble; Vocal solos by Agnes Clepper accompanied by Alice Clepper.

A short skit entitled "How the Story Grew" was presented. Following the program a banquet was served under the direction of Mrs. C. Mayfield and Mrs. L. Lohs.

MISS STANLEY GIVEN HONORABLE MENTION

Miss Rosamond Stanley, daughter of Mr. Ann Stanley, 1932 Macdonald avenue, who has been defying her father to the art of painting, has been given honorable mention from the Board of Regents, Mission University, and is finishing up her work by taking a post-graduate course.

Her sister, Patricia Stanley, who is a graduate of the 1924 class of the Richmond Union high school, is now a sophomore at the University. She is specializing in cartooning and her work appears frequently in the California monthly.

Mrs. Blanche Karp Is Given Surprise Shower by Friends

Mrs. S. Abraham gave a unique shower for her daughter, Mrs. Blanche Karp at the family home at 421 Fifth Street last night.

The evening opened with games; musical numbers by Mrs. Florence Kirkland; and other entertainment by Mrs. Virginia Bryant. In the midst of this first and second prizes were awarded to Mrs. Macdonald Jensen and Norma Carson.

The surprise of the evening was a clever presentation of gifts for Mrs. Karp. A snappy French maid arrived with a handsome baby carriage containing a new baby outfit with everything a fond mother could desire for her child. The baby outfit was given off by the maid with great credit to her.

Mrs. Abraham later presided at a table decorated with a handsome cloth and other favors suitable to the occasion. Delicious sandwiches, cake and ice in the form of storks were served. Mrs. Abraham was assisted by her daughters, Mesdames Samuel Bower and Fred Rockman of San Francisco.

The following friends of Mrs. Karp were present: Mesdames Virginia Bryant, E. Buchanan, Harriet Davis, Emma Genger, Norma Gengell, A. Hoyle Marie Macdonald, Teresa, Elizabeth, Kerrie, Florence Kirkland, Alice Marsh, E. May Mahon, Louise O'Neill, Lathelle Reed, Elma Rice and Miss Irene Warren.

Richmond Can Have Good Bus Service Here

tion needs of Richmond and the Eastbay.

In Boston the street car is ten cents, while the buses operate on a fare of FIVE CENTS.

The public in general is disgusted with the action of the Railroad commission during the past few months, in granting an increase in fares and refusing the permit of the San Francisco-Berkeley ferry.

The recent increase granted platform men is in no way responsible for the increase in fares. The small amount represented by the increase is a drop in the bucket compared to other operating expenses and depreciation funds.

THE RAILROAD COMMISSION IS PLEDGED TO A PLATFORM OF REGULATION. MONOPOLY. THEY ADMIT IT. AS LONG AS THIS MONOPOLY EXISTS THE STREET CAR COMPANY WILL GIVE RICHMOND ANY KIND OF SERVICE IT WANTS. MAKE US PAY THREE TIMES THE REGULAR FARE AND THEN TRY TO MAKE US SAY WE LIKE IT.

The street car system in the Eastbay represents an investment of $300,000. A bus service would completely scrap all of this equipment. No wonder you say that there seems to be some opposition to buses. For that amount of money we might think up a few good excuses ourselves.

THERE WILL BE OPPOSITION TO HIS LIVES. BUT NONE OF THIS OPPOSITION CAN DENY THAT THE BUS HAS PROVEN A SUCCESS IN THE EAST.

THAT SANTA CRUZ HAS RECENTLY SCRAPED ITS STREET CAR LINES FOR A BUS SERVICE.

THAT MONTEREY AND PACIFIC GROVE IS DOING THE SAME THING.

AND THAT IN THIS DAY AND AGE THE ELECTRIC STREET CAR IS AN OBSOLETE AS THE HOUSEDRAWN CAR WAS TEN YEARS AGO.

RICHMOND CAN HAVE BETTER TRANSPORTATION SERVICE IF THE CITY AS A WHOLE WILL GO AFTER IT.

BETTY BRONSON IS STAR IN FILM AT CALIFORNIA

Betty Bronson, twice honored by J. M. Barrie, has more than justified that noted author's faith in her.

It was Barrie, a year ago, who picked Betty, then an absolute unknown, to play the title role in Paramount's screen version of his immortal fantasy, "Peter Pan." And it was Barrie again, a few months back, who unhesitatingly selected the now world-famous Betty for the leading part in the picture of his notable stage success, "A Kiss for Cinderella."

As the heroine of "Peter Pan," Betty scored a tremendous hit, but those who have had an advance peek at "A Kiss for Cinderella," which Herbert Bronson recently completed, claim that she does the finest work of her career as the wistfully appealing Cinderella. Local picturegoers will be able to judge for themselves, as the picture is scheduled to play a two days run at the California theatre beginning today.

Perhaps never before in the history of the screen has a girl of seventeen had honors heaped upon her as has Betty Bronson. In a little more than one short year she has risen from obscurity to world-wide prominence. Yet success has made no change in her. Many girls of seventeen would have had their heads turned by this sudden rush of popularity and fame, but not Betty. She accepted it all gratefully, a little nervous and surprised to find herself in the limelight, but not the least little bit puffed up about it.

It is this natural inherent modesty coupled with a charming personality that has won for Betty a host of friends both in and out of the studio.

Pure Science Research Hampered In United States By Restricted Finances, National Leaders Find

Regretting that scientists in the United States are handicapped in their work of seeking new knowledge in the field of pure science, prominent public men and eminent scientists serving as a special board of trustees of the National Academy of Sciences, of Washington, D. C., have formed the National Research Endowment, under the chairmanship of Herbert Hoover, to obtain needed financial support to fundamental scientific research.

This special board of trustees, which proposes to obtain adequate funds for pure scientific research, includes such men as Owen D. Young, Herbert Hoover, Felix Warburg, Col. Edward M. House and John C. Merriam, who are shown above. Other members are: Albert A. Michelson, President of the National Academy of Sciences and Nobel Prize winner; Gano Dunn, Chairman of the National Research Council; Vernon Kellogg, Permanent Secretary of the National Research Council; Elihu Root, Andrew W. Mellon, Charles E. Hughes, John W. Davis, Julius Rosenwald, Cameron Forbes, Henry S. Pritchett, Dr. Robert A. Millikan, Foreign Secretary of the National Academy of Sciences and Nobel Prize winner; Henry M. Robinson; Dr. Simon Flexner, Director of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research; Dr. John J. Carty, Vice President of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company; Dr. James H. Brewster, Director of the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago; William H. Welch, Director of the School of Hygiene and Public Health of Johns Hopkins University; Professor L. R. Jones of the University of Wisconsin; Professor A. B. Lamb of Harvard University; Professor Oswald Veblen of Princeton University; Dr. Thomas H. Morgan of Columbia University; and Dr. George E. Hale.

Trustees of the National Research Endowment contend: (1) That the United States, which already occupies a leading position in industrial research, should rank with the most enlightened nations in the advancement of pure science. (2) That it is wiser to make large expenditures for scientific research, thus improving human welfare, conserving health, and saving countless useful lives, than to tolerate unnecessary suffering and then endeavor to alleviate it at still greater cost. (3) That research in all branches of the mathematical, physical, and biological sciences should be encouraged, because of the intellectual and spiritual value of adding to knowledge and because the greatest advances in science and in industry often result from apparently useless abstract discoveries. ly qualified to widen fundamental knowledge through research are of such value to the nation that every effort should be made to facilitate their work.

(5) That the overcrowding of educational institutions, and the consequent excessive demands of teaching and administration, have further reduced the limited opportunities for research previously enjoyed by the members of their faculties. (6) That the funds now available for the support of research in pure science in the United States are far below what our population, education and material resources demand. (7) That the National Academy of Sciences, created by Congressional charter, the scientific adviser of the Government, and composed of leading investigators in the closely interlocked and mutually dependent mathematical, physical, and biological sciences, is peculiarly qualified to evaluate the needs of pure science in America, to stimulate its progress, and to insure the wisest use of funds provided for research.

Two Ships Win In Fight Against Eastern Storm

(By Universal Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Two more great liners came creeping into port today on the heels of a hurricane, forty-eight hours late. They were the Comander Aquitania and the French liner France, both battered and ice-coated after fighting the sixty mile northwesterly gale which has swept over the North Atlantic for a week.

Three passengers and three members of the crew of the France, spanked by an eighty foot wave, turned about when told by wireless that the President Roosevelt of the U. S. Lines was standing by the sinking freighter Antioch, whose S. O. S. calls the France started to answer.

The passengers were thrown violently to the deck, and the sea-men were jammed against a life-boat they were standing by. The only material damage to the vessel was the shattering of two stern doors by that same wave.

None was injured on the Aquitania, but two ports were broken by waves, and several cabins flooded. Her starboard pier smashed a section of her pier when a wave threw the liner against her berth suddenly while docking, endangering the lives of five longshoremen.

The masters of both these vessels—who were ready to rush to the doomed Antioch had not the President Roosevelt reached her side first—praised highly the fact of Captain George Fried of the Roosevelt in saving the twenty-five British seamen on that little vessel early today. As Captain Blumart said:

"I turned my ship back on her course when I got Captain Fried's message he was standing by that vessel. I realized that Captain Fried, who is known for his valor, could render any possible and necessary assistance."

Reports received by the United States Lines from England indicate that the President Roosevelt and its crew will receive a gigantic reception when that vessel reaches Southampton, after standing by the Antioch four days.

The local weather bureau reports that the gale, which today extended over New York City, will continue at least until morning. In the meanwhile half a dozen other liners are battling their way into port.

Wealthy Rancher Held On Drunk Driving Charge

MARTINEZ, Jan. 28.—Charged with operating an automobile while intoxicated, George W. Emmons, 67, a wealthy owner of the Diablo Stock farm at Danville and head of several California industrial firms is free on $1000 bail here today.

Following two automobile crashes, said by the authorities to be the result of Emmons' inability to drive, Traffic Officer Edward Keefe placed Emmons under arrest.

Emmons' car crashed into a machine driven by W. H. White, of Alameda, and immediately after struck the car of Joe Girola of Oakland, Keefe declared.

Emmons' arrest was ordered by District Attorney A. B. Tinning who happened to be driving on the highway at the time of the smash-ups which happened at Oak Villa.

Dr. Claud Leech of Walnut Creek examined Emmons and the driving while intoxicated charge was subsequently lodged against him.

"The Desert's Price," the William Fox production starring Buck Jones which opens at the Richmond theatre today is a thrilling Western picture, full of action and surprising situations that hold one tense from the first to the last.

Back to east as the handsome young owner of a large cattle ranch, he returns from the East to find his cowhands under suspicion of killing sheep belonging to a neighboring ranch. Then through some clever detective work on his part the real culprits are discovered and peace is restored between the ranches.

The scenic effects are without a doubt some of the most wonderful that have ever been shown in a Western drama. One breathtaking situation follows another with lightning rapidity. There are also some thrilling exhibitions of horsemanship, one in particular where Buck rides an unbroken cow-boy and wins a wager from the two Martin brothers, who have baffled the neighborhood for so long.

Jones has a particularly well chosen supporting cast which includes Florence Gilbert in the leading role, Edna Marion, Ernest Butterworth, Arthur Houseman and Montague Love.

Other features on the same program include "The Cloud Hopper," a Larry Semon comedy; "Felix Kats Are West," a Felix the cat comic.

Work is rapidly nearing completion on the new B. Monaghan building at Twenty Ninth street and Macdonald avenue, it was announced today by the owner.

The building, which will contain two stores in the lower floor and two up-to-date flats on the upper floor, will be among the most modern buildings in the city. A four room house is being built in the rear.

SIX SNAPPY CONTESTS ARE SCHEDULED

Arena at Winters Hall Will be Opened on February 5 With A Good Schedule

Six peppy bouts will be featured on the opening card of the new Richmond Athletic club at Winters' hall on February 5. Harry Eagles and Sam Schomer are promoting the bouts which are expected to draw a large crowd.

The Winters' hall is being completely remodeled for the event. A regulation ring has been built and there will be seating capacity for 1500 fans.

The card as announced by Eagles is:

Benny Viera vs Eddie Sylvester, 8 rounds, 133 pounds.

Jimmy Valentino vs. Bobby Erle, 125 lbs.

Frankie Bray vs. Benny Alker, 150 lbs.

Carl Grazino vs. Young Envaldo, 150 pounds.

Mickey Brown vs. Pat Bayatto, 130 pounds.

Kid Morgan vs. Gene Ramos, 125 pounds.

Sylvester is a good lightweight who has beaten Young Papke, Tommy Richards, and Young Harry Williams recently. He will make Benny extend himself to the limit.

Viera looks as good now as when he defeated Danny Kramer, Jimmy Dundee, Bate Herman and Ted O'Hara.

Valentino is a good junior lightweight from New York.

Frankie Bray and Benny Alker fought a hair-raising draw at Santa Cruz recently where they featured in a main event. This battle promises to be the real thing.

Mickey Brown, Kid Morgan, and Pat Bayatto are local boys with some experience.

McCracken and S. O. Cagers win contests

In a fast and furious game the McCracken quintet took the Oakland Native Sons down the line 36-26 at the Junior high school gymnasium last night. In the preliminary game the Kearney-Furrers were defeated by the Standard Oil team No. 1, 1919.

The Native Sons' victory was the real thing in the way of a fast game with plenty of thrills and basket work.

The local team kept a safe lead throughout the game and it was only at the start of the final half that the visitors seemed at all dangerous, the score stood 17-16 in favor of the visitors.

Then Gillians and O'Brien started work of pulling them down. Shortly afterwards Gillians went out and Chattleton went in at forward. Chattleton then began his long range shots and started O'Brien and Gillians were the star men of the game. These two dead-eye basket workers drew down 22 points between themselves; Gillians scoring 10 points to O'Brien's 12.

Knollington was the high point man for the Native Sons. He gathered nine points in the course of the evening.

R.U.H.S. FIVE FACES HARD FIGHT TONIGHT

Faced with the loss of Rowdy Dyer to the line up, Coach H.R. Cagers are hard at work for the luck game, which faces them tonight at 7 o'clock. Dyer has been ill for the last few days and it is improbable that he will play.

In all probability, H.R. will shift Captain Ernest Gardner to forward and place Gaddoni at punting guard.

The battle tonight will be one of the hardest ever scheduled for the local team. Tomorrow they go up against a team as good as the Lick bunch, the Lowell high school quintet of San Francisco.

Lick was runner-up for the Northern C. I. E. championship last year and are rated as the best team in San Francisco. They are heavy but fast, and that counts.

The game will start promptly at 7 o'clock at the high school gym with the lightweights featuring the curtain raiser.

Tomorrow the two teams will start against Lowell at the local high school gym. The lightweights start at 2:30 and the unlimited game will start at about 3:30.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The two women who were supposed to meet with eight-ounce gloves in the ring at Huxley will not. The council which controls the hall made an announcement today that as far as they were concerned the two ladies could go to Africa and stage their fight. It was a clutch that "they" were to fight at Huxley. The council voted upon the matter and of the voters, one woman was in favor of the bout. The promoters of the Amazon battle declared that they will stage the fight in some other locality but it is doubtful as the prominent women in athletics are not in favor of the event.

Y. M. D. CAGERS WIN FROM THE BURDON TEAM

The Y. M. D. Cage team took a fast game from the Burdon Painters at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium last night. The final score was 38-20.

From start to finish the game was all that it was expected to be, a real battle.

Malloni was high man for the Painters with 8 points. Although he was outwitted by the "Y" men he had a habit of sneaking in under the bucket and dripping them in.

Church, center for the L. men, did the basket work, his average for the night's game was 12 points.

Joe Burdon showed a nice form and has prospects of making a good player.

The line ups were:

Y. M. D. Pimm, f. 6; Fowell, f. 3; Church, c. 12; Pitchford, g. 3; Vargas, g. 2; Subs: Roger, 2; Hupr and Sengle.

Burdon's Painters: Ush, f. 6; Kirkhouse, c. 4; Burdon, g. 0; Malloni, g. 9.

All five games were excellent. "Doc" Seawright reported that the three games at Berkeley were some of the best he has seen for a long time.

When the most glamorous picture is over—and you come outside to the bright lights and the brighter laughter of friends—have a Camel!

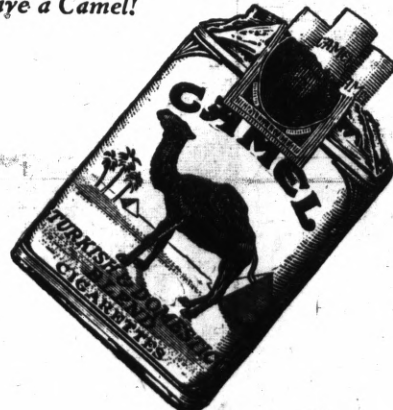

No other cigarette in the world is like Camels. Camels contain the choicest Turkish and domestic tobaccos. The Camel blend is the triumph of expert blenders. Even the Camel cigarette paper is the finest—made especially in France. Into this one brand of cigarettes is concentrated the experience and skill of the largest tobacco organization in the world.

WHEN the exciting scenes are over. And you leave the great theatre thrilled at what you've seen. When, as the organ peals forth its rolling music, you come outside with jovial, laughing friends—have a Camel!

For nothing else on earth could be so refreshing among the great white lights as Camel. Camel adds of its own bright goodness to the enjoyment of every pleasing scene. Camel is the hale friend and companion for eventful days and carefree evenings. Here is something worth writing in words of gold: "Camels never tire the taste, or leave a cigarette after-taste, no matter how freely you smoke them." And what's more, you can't buy choicer tobaccos or more perfect blending, no matter how much you pay.

So, this night as you leave for the brilliant scenes. And when the big show is finished and you've seen life in its tense and purposeful moments—know then the mellowest fragrance that ever came from a cigarette.

Have a Camel!

Our highest wish, if you do not yet know Camel quality, is that you try them. We invite you to compare Camels with any cigarette made at any price.
